HENDRICKS AND DUMMY

THE VICE PRESIDENT IS BEATEN AT A GAME OF CHESS.

He Sauters Into the Eden Musee, Examines His Counterfeit Presentment in Waz, Overhears a Few Remarks and Trises a Game With a Statue.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—A tall man dressed in a severe business suit, wearing a very shiny and very high hat, entered the Eden Musee. People who looked at the white necktie tied simply under his collar, and the patriarchal way in which he walked about, said that he was a church deacon. Other far-seeing people, whose sensitive nerves had been stirred up by the number of moves lately made by Supt. Murray, advised their neighbors to be careful. No one thought for a moment that he was Vice President Hendricks, but it was, and he walked up and down and looked at himself in a

There was a number of people around the vice president and they expressed their opinions freely. Some said he was a smart man and others said he was not, and the tall gentleman had so much expression on his face as his wizen imitation. The wax gentleman looked more comfortable than the flesh-and-blood gentleman.

The vice president eventually went up to a little man who sat behind a checkboard. His kings and queens were before him, and although he did not speak, his moves were his bishops and knights around so intelligently that the vice president thought he would like to play a game at chess with such an intelligent wax gentleman.

So he sat down at the board and pushed very high silk and his opponent moved. People began to gather. They had learned who the player was and they crowded very close up to him and the wax player.

"Two to one on the wax man," said a young man with a brown mustache.

"I'll take you," was the answer from an older young man, and the money was put in a little jar.

"He looks just like his picture, doesn't he?" another man asked.

"Yes," a friend replied, "if he had those little side whiskers shaved off. I don't think side whiskers are becoming to a man who may be president."

"He's got a dandy suit," was the next remark heard.

"Yes," a friend replied, "if he had those little side whiskers shaved off. I don't think side whiskers are becoming to a man who may be president."

Meanwhile the vice president played. It was remarkable how well his antagonist, considering that he does not move his pieces. The vice president was apparently losing ground. He got excited. Not with a game at chess with such an intelligent wax gentleman.

His hands moved quickly and without a bit of nervousness, and it was noticeable that he did not bite his lip the way Mr. Hendricks did.

Some of the remarks that went around at this stage of the game were like these: "Five to one on wax work."

There were no takers.

"Hendricks is a dandy player, but the wax man can give him points."

"I always heard that the vice president was calm. Why, he's all ruffled."

"The tall fellow is a dandy player."

The game finished, and the vice president arose, defeated. He put on his high, silk hat and moved out of the crowd and left the building.

A spruce, dapper little gentleman came out of the wax man with blue eyes, and said:

"Faw! It's hot in there! He's a pretty good player—or an Indian."

A FIENDISH NEGRESS.

Horrible Revenge Against a Woman Taken Out on a Child.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 12.—One of the most horrible crimes ever committed in Tennessee was committed here by a negro named Anna Davenport. She had a fight with another woman named Millie Plumber about a week ago, and since then had threatened to kill her. Millie became frightened and moved to another part of the city.

Millie left her four-months-old baby at home and went to a ball. About 10 o'clock a policeman passing her house heard the infant screaming and broke in the door. Anna Davenport was standing over the child, whose head, face and neck were covered with blood. The skin was peeled off in great blotches and half of his lip was eaten away.

The woman was arrested and a physician called. She had forced the baby to swallow concentrated lye and had poured the stuff over its body. The can in which the lye was carried was found under the bed. The woman was hurried to jail, as threats to lynch her were frequent. The child is dying.

STREET "SCENE."

A Deserted Wife Seeks to Destroy the Life of Her Wayward Husband.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—A stylishly dressed young woman attracted the attention of Detective McGuire and Manning while walking Broadway by her queer actions.

She looked down at the ground, and apparently tried to conceal something in the folds of her dress. The woman turned and ran. A crowd of men followed her. A young man was coming down that thoroughfare. The woman seemed greatly agitated. A minute later the woman was carried away and since then has been exchanged when the woman made a grab at the man's waist and chin, saying: "They're mine, and you're no better than I am."

A tussle ensued in which the man retained the watch. As quick as lightning she thrust her hand into his pocket and the instant the report of a pistol attracted passers by.

The two detectives rushed to the scene and seized both the man and the woman. The bullet had entered his breast, and he was unhurt they were taken to police headquarters and locked up. The man declined to make any charge against the woman or to give an account of himself. The woman said her name was Mrs. Jennie Vin, and that the man was her husband, Eugene S. Vin.

She revealed herself grossly abused and twice deserted. Mrs. Vin declares that her husband was living with another woman, and when she upbraided him he left her, and for several months they were separated.

"It was my intention," said Mrs. Vin, "to kill him and then take my own life. He has ruined my life and that of our child, and I have nothing to live for."

Mrs. Vin seemed greatly affected and wept bitterly, her husband showed not the least sign of remorse. It appears that the watch and chain Mrs. Vin snatched from her husband he had taken when he left her last. Vin about a year ago shot a man on the Bowery, for which offense he served six months' imprisonment. He is about twenty-eight years old, and dresses respectably.

THE FLORISTS.

The Great Convention Begins at Music Hall, Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 12.—At 10 o'clock at Music Hall begins the first annual meeting of the Society of American Florists. President John Thorpe presided over the opening of the meeting to order. His Honor, Mayor Smith, will deliver the address of welcome, after which the routine business of the convention will follow.

It has been erroneously stated that there would be no floral display, but the plan is only now being decided. B. P. Griffith, chairman of the local committee, received a telegram from several prominent florists who want 1,000 glasses for a display of gladioli. The plants and flowers will be donated to the Children's Home, Ohio hospital, and other charitable institutions.

The meeting promises to be largely attended. From New York, 150 are coming; from Philadelphia, 50; from Chicago, in the neighborhood of 100; from St. Louis, 50 or 60, and so from other cities. The headquarters of the convention will be at the Grand hotel.

A Mystery Solved.

BOSTON, Aug. 12.—Suffolk evidence has been gathered to show that the murdered woman whose quarters were found in the harbor was Mrs. Nellie Mitchell.

It was the police that it was Mrs. Mitchell cannot all be made public now, but it is so positive that no one connected with the case has any doubt of the subject. Mrs. Mitchell, who lived at 100 Endicott street, was last seen at 7:30 p. m. on Monday, July 29, when she left the house in a cab.

She spent nearly two days making a most careful search of the Mitchell dwelling. The neighbors speak highly of Mrs. Mitchell, an acquaintance says he saw Mr. Mitchell strike his wife on the left eye on Saturday, the 28th. There was a bruise on the left eye of the murdered woman.

WON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Aug. 12.—A puzzling question is just now occupying the attention of the United States government in New Mexico, which is of equal interest to other territories. Judge Vincent, the newly appointed Democratic chief justice of New Mexico, has named W. B. Wells, a member of the court, Phillips the present clerk, positively refuses to resign or give to W. B. Wells, claiming that he was appointed by the act, and just to his good behavior.

The lawyers of the territory sustain Phillips in his position, and the matter will be referred to the attorney general to President Cleveland. Phillips is a son-in-law of ex-Judge Axtel, of congressional investigation fame.

HEING IN FLAMES.

ALABAMA, Ill., Aug. 12.—Several serious editorial reflections on Gen. Grant that have appeared in Gen. Martin's paper of late caused considerable excitement here. There was talk of getting his office and moving him, but the matter terminated in his being hanged in effigy to the wind.

The figure gazed there all forenoon, the object of many jokes and much laughter. On the front of the effigy was a large placard stating: "Gen. Martin—The doom of all cranks. May the Lord have pity on your soul." Another placard reflecting on the editor was attached to the effigy.

COUNTING MILLIONS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—A serious misunderstanding is reported to exist between the outgoing and incoming administration of the United States treasury in this city regarding the count of the money in the vaults.

Mr. Brooks, the newly appointed sub-treasurer, is willing to accept the count by weight, but Mr. Spaulding, the present incumbent, insists on every piece being counted before a transfer is made. There are ninety-three million dollars in the vaults. To count it all over would take from six to eight months.

A decision from Washington on the subject is looked for.

BEHEADED AND DISMEMBERED.

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 12.—Daniel Vaughn, dealer in books and pictures, was walking along the railroad track when he was struck by a passenger train. His head and both legs were severed from the body.

He was lying a few feet from the track. His body was picked up by a woman and did not bear the approaching train. He was a man of strictly temperate habits, and leaves four children unprotected for their mother, having died a short time ago.

STICH, STICH, STICH.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12.—The Tailors' National Union of the United States reconvened and President Leeson made the opening remarks. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were read. The secretary's report shows that since the last annual meeting the membership has increased to 150,000.

Justice Insured.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Governor Hill has decided to ask the legislature for a sentence in the case of J. Horace Jones, the Troy wife murderer, who is sentenced to be hanged on Thursday, August 13.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRANSIENT HALTS TOWARD THE SARANAC.

Looking Over His Old Stamping ground at Albany—Views and Interviews—General Sherman Too Old for Kissing—National News Topics.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 12.—President Cleveland passed through this city since his inauguration as president, as the guest of Dr. S. H. Ward. His visit in Albany has been as much like that of an ordinary citizen as was possible to arrange. He had a few calls during the day. He visited the executive chamber and was closeted with Governor Fitts in his private room. He said word to Capitol Commissioner Perry that he wished to make an inspection of the new work of the capital with the committee he then made a tour of the apartments now being waited up.

He presided over several delighted with the work. Mr. Perry is one of President Cleveland's appointees. On leaving him the president shook him warmly by the hand and said: "Perry, come down to Washington and I will show you some of the bill flags, but none this time."

too near to escape and were caught under the falling brick and timbers. August Metzger was on the head of the street and was fatally wounded. John Foran, a fireman, was just inside the building at a second-story window and was blown out into the street, breaking a leg and receiving severe internal injuries.

It will require ten hours to clean the bricks and debris out of the street to see who is under them. Fifteen or twenty men and boys were standing directly under the wall when it fell, but the excitement and confusion it was not possible to tell who was caught.

John Darling, a postoffice employe, is missing. As the crowd stampeded several teams ran away, slightly injuring some of the fleeing people. The cat meat mill is a total loss. The adjoining building, occupied by Catlin & Knox, was partly consumed, and the stock flooded with water. The Leavenworth Times office and the postoffice were flooded and extensively damaged. The mill was valued at $60,000, and was insured for $45,000. The insurance of Catlin & Knox is $25,000.

A body horribly crushed and disfigured and supposed to be that of Edward McGee, a bricklayer, was taken out from under the fallen wall. It is thought the fire was caused by an explosion of dust in the mill. The fire department from Ft. Leavenworth volunteered assistance and made the run of three miles in ten minutes.

Hid in the House.

MIDDLETOWN, O., Aug. 12.—One of the most daring burglaries that has ever been committed in this city occurred here. The residence of Mrs. McGee, one of the finest in the city, was entered, and Daniel Murray, the jeweler, was robbed of two diamond rings, a watch, and a revolver, valued at about $300. W. P. Mohr, the electrician, was delivered of his watch and pocketbook, amounting to $100. Charles Greenhouse, the clothing man, lost his watch, chain and diamond ring, valued at $200. The officers have as yet no clue to the burglars. Two young girls, $175 in cash, a handsome diamond pin and stud were overlooked. It is supposed the resale outside after the house some time during the evening and waited for the boys.

THE CHOLERA IS COMING

A CASE OF THE TERRIBLE PLAGUE REACHES ENGLAND.

Improvement in Marseilles and the Rapid Spread at Toulon—The Terrors of the Dike Scandal—Salvationist Charges—Mr. Cox—Foreign.

Bristol, Aug. 12.—Notwithstanding the timid and cautious verdict of the jury regarding the sailor who died here of "a suspicious disease resembling cholera," few members of the medical profession deny that he brought Asiatic cholera from Marseilles. The verdict was aimed at preventing fright. Nevertheless much alarm exists. From the street, where the sailor died, is a densely crowded neighborhood adjoining the harbor. It lies on a low level, and the houses are old and dilapidated. Bristol generally, though it boasts a low death rate, is no stronghold of sanitation. It teems with houses of the past generation. Its sewage is allowed to stream out into public channels. Its lower classes are herded together in dwellings reeking with filth. Bristonians have a bold method of disposing of their sewage. Closed drains are only partially adopted, and the sewage of some eighty thousand population is permitted to flow in an open stream through some of the most congested sections of the city. This gigantic torrent of filth mingles with the sea. A feeling of alarm will be felt in a modified degree at all seaports which have commercial relations with this city.

The Dike Scandal.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Sir Charles Dike has written to his constituents in the House of Lords of the accusation brought against him and asking their forbearance until the trial of the divorce case, which he says, he awaits with confidence. In order to mitigate the disastrous effects of the Crawford-Dike scandal the Liberals are circulating a statement that the lady Bristol has withdrawn the confession made to her husband, and when in the witness box will declare that the confession was not true and was made under hysterical delusions. Mr. Crawford's friends insist that he has evidence apart from his wife's confession, but say that he will not persevere in the action unless convinced that it is perfectly justifiable and absolutely necessary. The trial will be the last of a long list to be heard in the divorce courts in December. The name of Sir Charles Dike has been expunged from the list of speakers for the coming electoral campaign. Sir Charles will pass the autumn at his villa near Toulon.

Mr. Cox at Stamboul.

VIENNA, Aug. 12.—Minister Cox's audience with the Sultan has not yet been fixed. It will take place probably on Friday next. Mr. Cox, however, has been officially received by the minister of foreign affairs, who assures him that his appointment is viewed with great pleasure by the Sultan. At the approaching interview Mr. Cox will present the Sultan with a souvenir in the shape of a very handsome silver tobacco stand. Meanwhile great preparations are making for a grand reception, which will take place under the patronage of the Sultan. The crew of the United States frigate Quinsepung will compete in international races for men-of-war boats.

The Plague in France.

MARSEILLES, Aug. 12.—The pestilence apparently ameliorated. Only twenty deaths by cholera are reported. The mayor, however, classifies persons of fifteen years old among "infants," to diminish the toll. Most of the recent cases make a rapid progress. Among these was that of the leader of the orchestra of the Theatre du Gymnase. Several cases occurred in the best portion of the city. I hear on the best authority that Toulon is afflicted with Asiatic cholera. There the same course of mistaken secrecy has led to a spread of the disease. Toulon is in a frightful unsanitary condition. As at Marseilles, progress is rapid, and there is great mortality among children.

Salvationist Charges.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Efforts are being made to secure the return to her mother of a missing girl named Eliza Armstrong. Mrs. Armstrong accuses G. Booth, the leader of the Salvation Army, of sending an agent to her daughter from home for the purpose of making the girl a spectacle as a minor saved from a life of wickedness by the Salvationists. The girl is thirteen years old. She has been traced to a home for fallen women, started by the Salvation Army and thence to the town of Lorient in France, where she again disappeared. Gen. Booth refuses to surrender the girl, and her mother has applied to the courts for aid in recovering her child.

Dublin Deaths.

DUBLIN, Aug. 12.—The lord mayor of Dublin was served with an injunction, forbidding him, under a penalty of $5,000 fine, from changing the name of Sackville street. Mr. Harrington has received $5,000 from Australia for the league fund. The trial of Denahan for the murder of Cashman at Mill street has ended in the discharge of the prisoner.

General Grant.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The Emperor William leaves Gisors and will spend the night at Salzburg, arriving at Bielefeld Thursday. The Daily News Paris correspondent writes to that paper two columns of personal reminiscences and other anecdotes of Gen. Grant, all of which shows the general in a highly creditable light.

The Queen's Speech.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The government will propose in both houses of parliament a vote of thanks to the troops lately engaged in the Sudan campaign. There will be a cabinet concert at Osborne house, at which the queen's speech of prorogation will be prepared.

Bull Fighting.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—In a bull fight at Nimes a horrible butchery of horses and bulls occurred. The famous Torreador Frascuelo was severely injured. The exhibition created much disgust.

Russian Mortality.

VIENNA, Aug. 12.—It is learned from private sources that there is great mortality among the Russian troops in Central Asia on account of the climate.

William and the Cray.

BERLIN, Aug. 12.—A meeting of the Emperor William and the artist Cray has been arranged to take place shortly.
